Methodology and practice areas explained

The 2018 edition rankings are based on thorough research conducted between September 2017 and January 2018 by our team of researchers in London, New York and Hong Kong. This research is conducted rigorously and impartially: no firm can pay to be included or to influence the results and there is no fee to pay to participate in our research.

Before compiling the rankings, our research analysts conducted market feedback interviews and reviewed detailed work information from firms, thousands of survey responses, and publicly available information. Judgements about which firms to include in the rankings, and which tier and practice area they should be in, take account of all this information. This makes IP STARS the most comprehensive and authoritative survey of the IP legal market yet published.

Firms are ranked alphabetically in tiers or as highly recommended or recommended. The total number of firms listed varies from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. For most jurisdictions the rankings are split into prosecution and contentious work. The prosecution ranking takes account of any pre- and post-registration work including contentious office proceedings and portfolio management, while the contentious ranking covers trade mark-related disputes including anti-counterfeiting work. Where appropriate, some firms have been ranked for both practice areas. In smaller jurisdictions we evaluated and ranked firms for their IP practice as a whole.
